Banana Coconut Upside Down Cake

Ingredients
- 1 BettyCrocker yellow cake mix
- 3 whole eggs
- 1/4 cup oil
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1/2 cup water
- 6 bananas sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup butter, divided
- 2 Tablespoons lemon juice

Method
- Preheat oven to 350 degrees and spray 2 (8 inch) round cake pans with cooking spray.
- With an electric mixer, beat cake mix, eggs, oil, water, and sour cream on low until combined. Beat on high for 2 minutes.
- Place banana slices evenly on the bottom of the two cake pans.
- In a small saucepan melts butter. Add brown sugar and lemon juice and heat until dissolved. Pour half of the brown sugar mixture into each of the 2 round cake pans over the bananas. Sprinkle coconut over brown sugar sauce.
- Pour cake batter on top of the coconut into the two pans, dividing equally.
- Bake 35-40 minutes or until toothpick in the center comes out clean. Remove from oven and let sit for 5 minutes. Invert onto serving dishes. Slice to serve.

Chicken and Vegetables Pies

Ingredients
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 30g butter
- 500g chicken breast fillet, cut into 2cm chunks
- 1 leek, white part only, finely sliced
- 1 garlic clove, crushed
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/3 cup (80ml) white wine or water
- 1 cup (250ml) chicken stock
- 1/2 cup (125ml) thick cream
- 1 large carrot, peeled, cooked, diced
- 1 large potato, peeled, boiled, diced
- 1 cup frozen peas, cooked
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh or 1/2 teaspoon dried tarragon
- 4 sheets puff pastry, thawed
- 1 egg, lightly beaten

Method
- Heat the olive oil and butter in a frypan over medium heat, add the pieces of chicken and cook until lightly browned and almost cooked through. Transfer chicken to a plate and set aside. Add the leek and garlic to the pan and cook over low heat for 2-3 minutes or until softened. Add the flour and cook for 1 minute. Add wine and bring to the boil for 1 minute, then pour in stock and cream and cook, stirring, for a further 5 minutes over medium-low heat.
- Return chicken to pan with cooked vegetables and tarragon, season well, then set aside to cool.
- Preheat the oven to 200°C.
- Cut four 18cm squares from the pastry, reserving off cuts.
- Place some chicken mixture in the centre of each square, then lift up the sides of the pastry to form a parcel, pinching edges together to seal. Cut out leaf shapes from the pastry offcuts and place over the joins. Make a small pastry rose for the centre of each parcel.
- Place parcels on a baking tray lined with baking paper. Brush with beaten egg and bake for 25 minutes or until golden.
The cold weather is finally upon us so break out the old jumpers and jackets, the trusty fleecy shirts and long pants. Don’t forget your beanie. Isn’t it amazing how long your warm gear lasts, in Australia’s Hottest Town (what, with only a few wears per year). Enjoy the cold while it lasts, sit around the fire drum (you will need a fire permit from the shire) and yarn the chilly evenings away, for as sure as night follows day the heat will soon return along with the bank breaking electricity bills.

Visitors are starting to arrive too, so give them a hearty Marble Bar welcome if you meet them at the pub or at the side of the road scratching their head over a map. Tell them the good spots to go and how the back roads are. We want our visitors to tell others about our beautiful town and the friendly people of Marble Bar.

There will be a few more car rallies coming through Marble Bar in the coming weeks. The Outback Car Trek on 7-8 June and WesCarpade on 8 August. Dust levels on the gravel roads will be higher than normal and travel times slowed right down.

STATE LIBRARY – STORY LINES
Storylines is a new system being piloted at the State Library of Western Australia to create a central access point for their digitised heritage collections relating to Aboriginal history in Western Australia. It’s aim is to help identify many of the photographs in the J.S. Battye Collection which are currently unidentified and unknown and to assist the State Library in the digital return of photos and other materials directly to Aboriginal families, communities and people. It is envisaged that Storylines will become a central point for Aboriginal people who wish to access the State Library of Western Australia’s extensive heritage collections, and a safe place to store records of people, place and history. Material which is identified as sensitive, secret or sacred is able to be restricted or removed in a flexible and responsive way. You can access the portal at: http://storylines.slwa.gov.au.

The Power of a Hero

Never underestimate the influence of your child’s heroes. Sixteen year old Francis Xavier moved to France from northern Spain, enrolled in the University of Paris, and gained a reputation for being 'charming, witty, urbane, athletic, musical, good looking, successful with women, and somewhat vain... a complete worldling until one day he met... Loyola Ignatius.' Loyola sought reformation within the Roman church. Loyola’s convictions so affected Francis that for the rest of his life he knelt when writing to Loyola or reading a reply. Together the two men established the Society of Jesus—the Jesuits—in 1534.

In the late 1530’s Loyola and Xavier set off as ministers to Venice, where they preached and worked in hospitals. Then with the blessing of Pope John 111, Xavier left Europe as a missionary to the Orient. Arriving in India in 1542, he walked throughout the countryside, wearing poor clothing, incessantly ringing a little bell, and calling the inhabitants to turn from paganism to Christ. He focused on the children, advising a coworker, 'I earnestly recommend to you the teaching of the children... since the grown-ups have no hankering for Paradise.'

Xavier journeyed on to Japan, where he laid aside his rags, put on expensive clothing, and publicly debated Buddhist monks. Numbers of Japanese entered the Christian faith, but Xavier felt that the key to winning Japan was to first win the Chinese, so he set off for China.

Waiting for an audience with the Chinese emperor and permission to preach, Xavier developed a fever, weakened, and died on December 3, 1552.

Francis Xavier is the father of modern Catholic missions. He started life spoiled but became one of the most courageous figures in missionary history. He laid the groundwork for the Catholic evangelism of the Orient and did it all in just a ten-year period.

Wise friends make you wise,
But you hurt yourself
By going around with fools.
You are in for trouble if you
Sin,
But you will be rewarded if
You live right
Proverbs 13:20-21
A lively crowd of Marble Bar residents attended a Shire of East Pilbara Public Meeting at the Civic Centre on Wednesday evening 28 June for a discussion and feedback on a variety of community issues and recent shire reports affecting Marble Bar.

The meeting was convened by Sue Michoff, Manager of Community Wellbeing and Public Health Consultant Melissa Stoneham asked the townspeople what they thought were Marble Bar’s public health priorities.

There were many ideas and suggestions ranging from mosquitoes to public toilets, the town speed limit, more footpaths, cats & dogs and activities for the children. Sue Michoff explained some of the content of the report and there was spirited discussion about the community bus, tennis/basketball court upgrade and other public health issues.

There will be a Public Meeting organised by the Marble Bar Progress Association at the Civic Centre at 7:30 pm 9 June to discuss the details of the reports and how the town will respond.

All reports available at the shire office. Get a copy, read it and come to the meeting for your say.

The Thank a Volunteer Awards followed with Kevin Danks, Samuel Cunniffe, Sue Verscheur and Jack Bennett receiving Certificates of Appreciation for their valuable work as volunteers around Marble Bar.

Sue Verscheur was named East Pilbara Volunteer of the Year and Samuel Cunniffe the East Pilbara Youth Volunteer of the Year for 2014. Congratulations to you all.

A delicious supper was served afterwards which was enjoyed by everyone.
Australia’s Biggest Morning Tea was held all around Australia on Thursday 22 May to raise awareness and to fundraise for the Cancer Council.

Marble Bar Primary School students and teachers made a range of yummy treats to share with everyone as well as contributions from many Marble Bar Community Members and visitors.

Councillor Dean Hatwell auctioned off two large Biggest Morning Tea Cups which fetched $39 & $40 respectively.

In all we raised $335.50 for the Cancer Council.

Well Done Marble Bar.
Unsealed roads and Car Rallies

Be aware..... It’s the time of the year for car rallies with the cooler weather and the dry season well and truly set in.

So as well as the endless ore trucks we have the dust of a hundreds of vehicles trekking along the Pilbara gravel roads over the coming weeks in a fundraising dustdevil of car rallies.

The ‘Shitbox Car Rally’ has just been through town from the south with RFDS, due Saturday off early on Sunday morning.

The ‘Outback Car Trek’ a fundraiser for the RFDS, due in from the north along the Boreline Road afternoon 7 June for an overnighter, heading off early on Sunday morning.

WesCarpade will be swinging through on Friday 8 August and is a fundraiser for Camp Quality.

While we welcome all visitors to our town, be aware that the dust levels on our surrounding gravel roads around these dates will be higher than normal so give it some thought if you are planning on using the gravel roads around the above dates as travel times will be longer and more frustrating than usual..... if that's possible.

A BIG THANK YOU TO MARBLE BAR

BURGLARY

A Marble Bar resident’s house was recently broken into and items stolen. We have dealt with the people involved, however I need to remind everyone that you need to lock your houses up when you’re not there. It doesn’t matter if it’s for a few hours or few days, please assist us by locking your houses.

Marble Bar is known as being a town that has minimal crime, so let’s not make it easy for crimes to be committed.

If you see someone hanging around or acting suspiciously then please let us know. The information you provide can help solve the crime.

NOISY PARTIES

Please advise us of noisy parties or disruptive behaviour. As well as reporting to Police, you can also notify housing on 1300 597 076 or lodge a complaint online at www.housing.wa.gov.au.

SEATBELTS

It is disappointing that some locals have not taken our previous concerns over children not wearing seatbelts seriously.

I said previously I have instructed staff to issue traffic infringements and that is what has happened.

NEW OFFICER

Wes’s replacement Andrew Hull has commenced work at Marble Bar so please drop in and say hello and get to know him and make him feel welcome to our lovely town. His wife Jesse and son Lachy are settling in well so that’s fantastic.

Andrew has big shoes to fill, however he is more than capable of assisting with any issues in town.

As always I would ask that if there are any issues which affect your quality of life to report them to the office. Should you wish to remain anonymous send a letter to our address at Locked Bag 1, email us Marble.Bar.Police.Station@police.wa.gov.au or contact Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000.
